Introduction

Wrike is a digital work management tool that lets users track and coordinate projects, combining a simple user experience and interface with enough depth for power users.

Wrike helps you organize and track your work, collaborate with others, and report on what's been done.

Below is a quick look at what you see when you open Wrike.

Top Bar

Shows notifications right in the Workspace. If you are @mentioned or a task is assigned to you, the notifications appear here. You can archive notifications to come back to them later or mark them as read.

Generate real-time Reports on Tasks, projects & user activity.

Live feed on all updates to work you're shared with in Wrike.
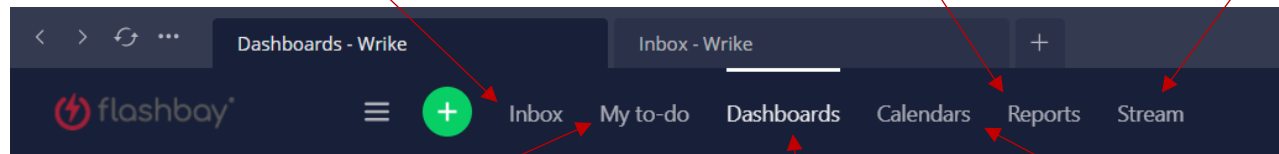

Your personal view. It primarily shows tasks assigned to you. Feel free to drag and drop tasks here without impacting due dates or any task details.

View filtered task lists and monitor the tasks which are most important to you. You can create custom dashboards to focus on tasks and projects important to you.

Helps you keep track of what needs to be worked on and when, stay in sync with your team, and visualize your project's schedule.

Side Bar
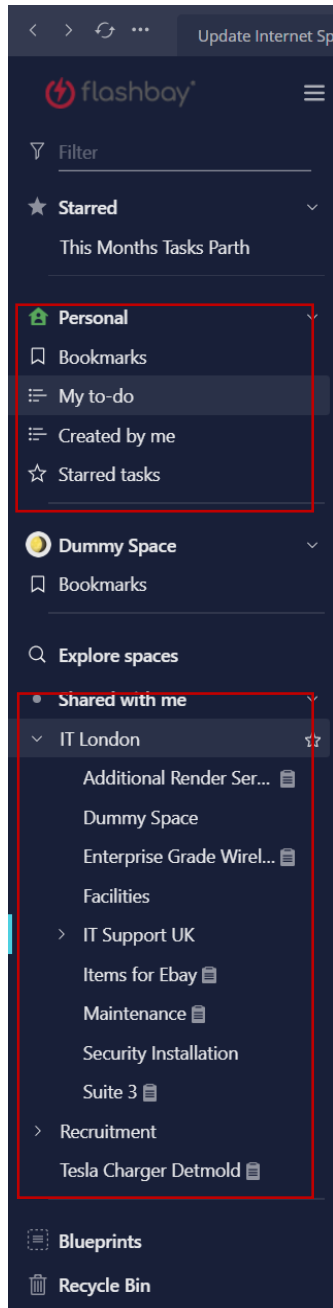

From this section, you can check your bookmarks, to-do list, check tasks you have created and a shortcut for tasks you have starred.

Navigate folders that are shared with you or created by you.

Creating a new task

In Wrike you can create tasks that will help you organise your workload. You will be able to assign tasks to colleagues who are involved in these tasks, set deadline & request updates.

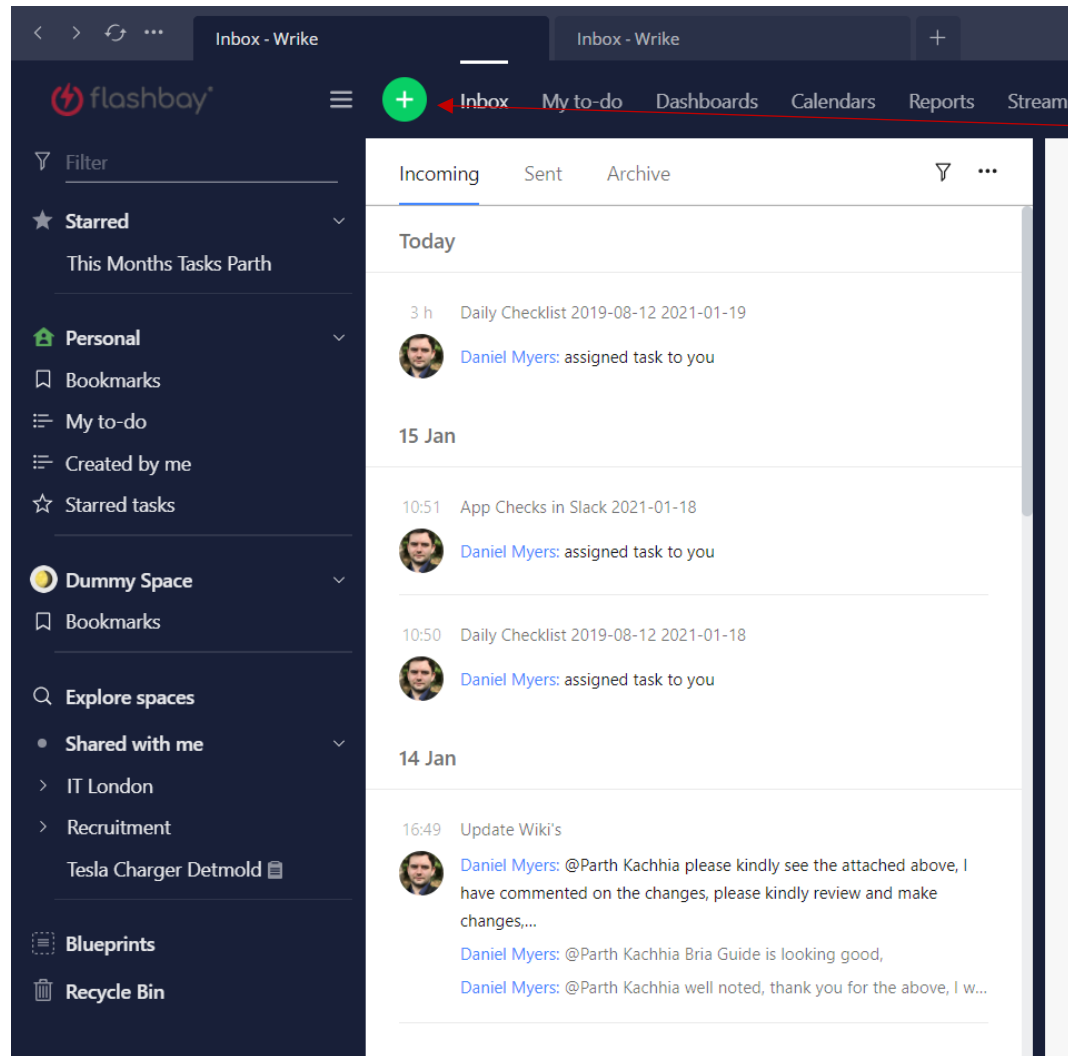

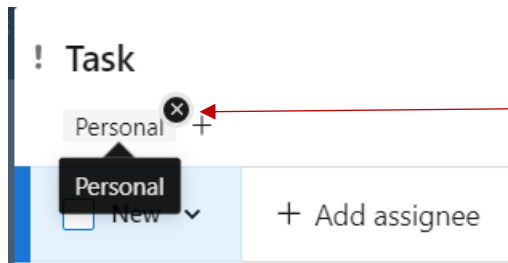

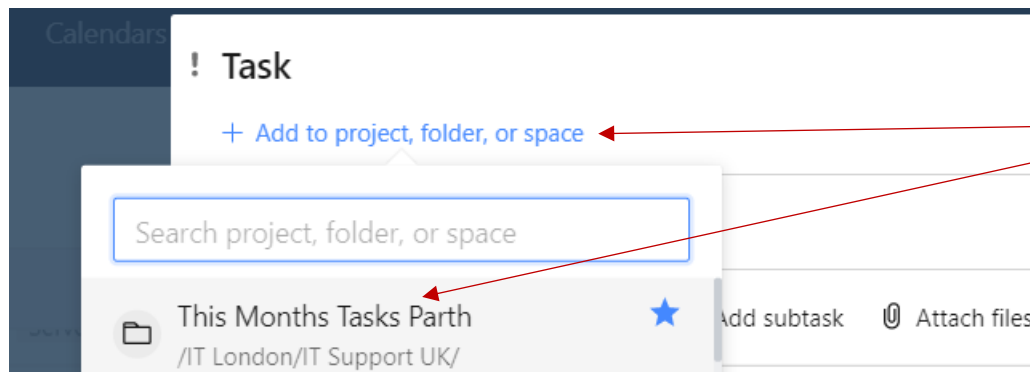

To begin creating a new task, press this button.

A dropdown menu will appear, click on the task option.

You will then need to enter the name of the task. This can be edited later if needed.

Adding Subtasks

You can also add sub tasks, this helps when trying to break down a task/project into sections for better visibility.

After clicking on 'Add subtask' you will need to click on "+ New task" to begin creating your subtask.

Type in the name of the task, then press enter. The subtask has now been created.

Adding Objectives/Descriptions

You can add objectives and create a check list from here, this will be visible to everyone the task has been shared with.

To add a description or a list of objectives simply click on the add description text and start typing.

You can also format the text to show as bullet points, numbers or check boxes.

Checkboxes are especially useful as it allows you and the other users on the task to check off objectives as they go.
